About Me and My Blog:

Green Acres Meets Paris, formerly called "My Life This Year", is a fashion and lifestyle blog. which I started in January 2012 as a way to show off the antique dress form I received for Christmas in December of the previous year. I had been contemplating a name change to reflect the direction in which I wanted to take my blog, and thanks to my mother, I officially changed the name of my blog to "Green Acres Meets Paris" on Mother's Day 2016. Just like Eva Gabor's character, Lisa, in the classic TV show "Green Acres", I'm a city girl happily married to a country boy. I love fashion, beauty, and travel, and I write about the things that inspire my style and my GAMP lifestyle.

I am a BlogHer Social Media Influencer, a Mogul Influencer and Global Ambassador, and a Velcro Brand Ambassador.
